Customer Reviews

If you like sailing, you will enjoy this book. This is a real life adventure sailing from Australia to New Zealand in bad weather. There is a lot of detail about the boat and how two people survived 40 days of horrendous weather. This book will make you think and become a safer and saner sailor. I still have nightmares about this voyage.

I enjoyed this book mainly because I live in Australia and know the area and its reputation. The authors description of events made me feel as though I was there, which was very scary ! I would recommend this book to anyone, in fact I already have recommended it to some of my friends.

A great book for anyone interested in sailing and sea adventure. A quick read but an interesting one. Author made you feel like you were there. More detailed maps to go along with the location descriptions would be helpful.

I read this story as though I was re living my own voyages. My 44 days at sea with six gales on a 32 foot cutter were bad enough but without the major waves Mr Dyas experienced. I thank Neptune for sparing me this on my sails. I miss sailing off New Zealand and Australia though I could do without the extreme seas and plight told in this story. Great story told. I look forward to reading the other books by this author.
